

Christopher Gilroy

Christopher is husband to Monika and father to Jeremiah and Colette. He currently works across the Archdiocese of Canberra and Goulburn in parish youth ministry development. With experience in various ministry contexts over the past 10 years, Christopher hopes to continue to provide spaces and opportunities for others to know Christ and to build up leaders to bring Jesus into their own personal contexts.

“To be Christian is to be a life interrupter. To me, the greatest tragedy is not knowing Jesus and His Church and living a mediocre life. I want to do all I can to live radically for Jesus, which means I can’t keep Jesus to myself.”

Australian content produced by

